Excuse Our Mess

The 4th of July is celebrated in America because it is the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, which announced the political separation of the 13 colonies from Great Britain in 1776. The Declaration of Independence was a historic document drafted by Thomas Jefferson and other delegates from the colonies<sup>1</sup>. The 4th of July has been a federal holiday since 1941, but the tradition of celebrating it goes back to the 18th century with fireworks, parades, concerts, and family gatherings. How will you and your family celebrate the 4th of July?

Turn About Boutique “Work In Progress”

Excuse

Let me introduce to you Lorilla Fonda Lemans who is the founder and CEO of Danger Aware and her husband Elmer (Lee) Lemans who is the president of Danger Aware . Please excuse our mess but right now we are in the process of remodeling a storage shed into a bigger room for her boutique.

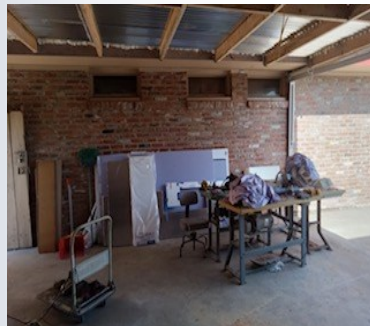

Fonda and Elmer are remodeling the shed on their own with their own finances that is getting very limited. They could use the help of donated funds so that this boutique can reopen into a bigger space and Fonda can show more of what there is to sell. This has been one of Fonda’s goals in the planning for a while and once this is complete and the boutique is up and running she can work on other goals she has planned for Danger Aware. She is only that much closer to her goal of spreading the word of what Danger Aware is about and what we stand for when it comes to abuse in any form like physical, mental, emotional and grooming of children in sexual abuse cases. If we can save one from being a victim of child abuse then our organization is doing it’s job. We hope that you come out and visit our new boutique which sells new and slightly used items. There’s something for everyone. We have Clothing for women, men and children new and slightly used, kitchen items, nick-nacks, toys, books, sewing materials, patterns, etc. Hope to see you soon.

Thank you for your support.
